Listed prices are for virtual delivery and represent the actual price of at least 80% of our contracts. However, in-person engagements will include additional fees to cover travel, printed materials, and supplies. In addition, large customizations, changes to the offering's curriculum, or a greater number of participants than listed may result in a higher fee depending on the complexity of the request. Lifetime Arts frequently designs custom contracts; if what need is not listed, please feel free to reach out to see if we can support your precise needs.
